JUDGE TROUP IS HEARD IN STRONG PLEA FOR MERGER

HELD BIG AND ATTENTIVE AUDIENCE SATURDAY NIGHT ON SECOND AVENUE.

"I submit to you that this is no little matter," said Judge Lovie P. Troup, when he was well under way in his address at the Proit corner on Second Avenue Saturday night, in favor of the merging of the cities of Albany and Decatur. "I come to you as a neighbor and as a man who loves you, and who would be an ingrate if he did not, and say to you to consider this question of consolidation very carefully and also prayerfully, and then say to yourself on election day, that so help you God, you will vote a ballot that in your conscientious judgment will mean the best for the future." With this request the Judge ceased to speak stating that he had spoken longer than he had expected to, since he was suffering with a severe cold. In view of the condition of his throat, Judge Troup had asked Andrew G. Patterson to open the speaking and get things warmed up. Mr. Patterson performed this task well and along with his answers to all objectors this speaker paid his compliments in no uncertain language to the effort that had been made by one of the speakers of the anti, to make political capital out of an alleged disagreement, he, Patterson, had had with certain officials of the retail clerk organization. He declared that his acts had proven and would prove him a better friend to labor that was the case with his assailants. In closing the speaking, which was attentively listened to by a large crowd, Chairman Kuhn of the Pro-consolidationists challenged any or all of the speakers against the merger at any place, or at any hour up until midnight tonight. In the out-set Judge Troup said that he would not "abuse, besmear, belittle or condemn any body." He said, "I accord to every one sincerity of purpose, and I demand the same consideration for myself. All may be conscientious and sincere; but all cannot be right in this matter, as one side or the other must be wrong. This matter is above politics or municipal buildings or postoffices. I tell you that the matter of establishing a real city on the banks of the Tennessee river at this point is a serious consideration and it should be approached in a serious frame of mind." The speaker declared that what he called "damnable wrangling" had kept the cities in check for thirty years to his own certain knowledge. He said that in the ten years he was secretary of the Land company, he had had to deal with the jealousies of the two towns and had seen this feeling drive many a prospective investor and home seeker away.

Declares that property values will not depreciate.

"If I believed that my property would depreciate in value under consolidation, I would not vote for it," said the speaker. In this connection the many supposed evils that might befall Albany in case of consolidation as depicted by the opposition speakers, were touched on one by one, and then the story of the old man who cried his heart out on reading of a fatal ship wreck, saying that if she had married about thirty years ago, and had reared a son, and he had drowned in the shipwreck, "then I wouldn't have had no son." This witticism from the dignified Judge brought vigorous cheers from the crowd, the noisy element at least, of

PRESIDENT PLANS NEW WAR ON HIGH COST OF LIVING

Will Urge Congress to Take Immediate Steps
Remedying High Prices.

(International News Service.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—President Wilson plans a new war on the high cost of living and will urge congress to take immediate steps towards remedying high prices, it was learned at the White House today. President Wilson in preparing his message to the next session of congress, is devoting considerable time to the problem of living cost and has before him

ROUSING MEETINGS BY BOTH SIDES END MERGER CAMPAIGN

Pros and Antis Bend Every Effort to Swing
the Wavering Voters in Line on the Final Day of Campaign

"HATCHET" WILL BE BURIED
AT DIVIDING LINE MONDAY NIGHT

Boys' Industrial Band From Birmingham
Will Render the Musical Program
for the Parade.

With both sides bending every effort to swing into line the wavering voter, the stage was set today for the grand finale in Albany-Decatur of the campaign to consolidate the two cities at the ballot box Tuesday.

The anti's last meeting will be held at the Masonic theatre tonight when a number of prominent speakers will deliver addresses against the merger. A musical program also will be rendered.

The last great demonstration of the pro-consolidationists will begin early in the afternoon and is expected to last until nearly midnight. The festivities will start with the arrival of the Boys Industrial Band, from Birmingham, shortly after 3 o'clock. The band is expected to defray at the Louisville and Nashville shops. As soon as the workers in the big industrial plant are released from the day shift, a parade will start and march first to the First ward and then to every ward in Albany. Musical numbers will be given and short speeches made, urging the merger.

At 5 o'clock the members of the band will go to supper and at 6 o'clock the 30 piece organization will be divided into two sections, one going to Decatur and the other to Albany where parades will be formed at the corner of Church and Bank streets and at Wheeler Park. At 6:30 o'clock the parades will move toward the city line, meeting there near the corner of the intersection of Lee and Perry streets at 7 o'clock.

To Bury Hatchet

When the two parades meet at the city line there will occur the ceremonial of burying the hatchet. The hatchets will be bloody, symbolic, the pros claim, of the jealousy and hatred formerly existing between the two cities. Rev. L. F. Goodwin, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Albany and Rev. W. N. Sholl, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Decatur, will officiate. The hatchets will be buried deep in a black coffin.

Following the "funeral of Old Man Hatred" the two parades will be consolidated, the bands will be merged, and the line of march will be back up Second avenue to the corner of Johnson street and Second avenue where five minutes addresses will be made by prominent residents and a band concert will be rendered.

Free From Bitterness

The campaign which ends by law at 12 o'clock tonight has been the most unique in the history of North Alabama and probably the state. Never before in this section has a political fight been waged to merge two cities, the size of Albany-Decatur.

The campaign has been conducted on both sides by many of the best known residents of the two cities and no stone has been left unturned by either side to bring out the largest possible vote. The number of ballots cast Tuesday is expected to shatter much available data bearing on the subject.

Recommendations of the federal trade commission, with reference to the licensing of producers of food stuffs, are being carefully studied by the President, who is undetermined whether he will touch on the treaty situation, or whether he will send a separate message on the treaty, it was learned today.

(International News Service.) INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24.—Investigation of erroneous burials of bodies of American soldiers killed in Siberia was begun by the war department in the Middle West today, following a fourth mistake in transportation of the soldier's remains.

A fortunate feature of the campaign to date, however, has been the remarkable freedom from personal bitterness generally engendered into such close fights. The campaign has arraigned friend against friend, business associate against business associate and in some cases, relative against relative.

The Census Bureau Rules That Bigger Figures Will Show

In the event that Albany and Decatur consolidate, the result will be carried in the next census. This is the ruling of the U. S. Census bureau, according to a letter to Mrs. W. B. Edmundson from her cousin, Hon. Early C. Michener, of the Second Michigan district.

In this connection, Mr. Michener wrote:

"I am leaving for home, but took up your matter with the census bureau. I find that if the cities of Albany and Decatur are consolidated as one city before January 1, 1920, then the new city will be enumerated as the new city. Even if the charter was not granted until a few days after January 1, then the old cities would be enumerated as they now are, and upon special request a foot note could be added on the census report showing the change."

DAVE MARTIN DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Short funeral services will be held at 7 o'clock tonight for Dave Martin, for many years a prominent business man of Albany and later a hardware salesman through this territory, who died Sunday afternoon suddenly in his room at a local hotel.

Services will be conducted from the residence of C. K. Lide, Jr., an uncle of the deceased, and the body will be taken to Calhoun, Tenn., for interment. Rev. W. E. Morris, presiding elder of the Decatur district, will officiate.

Mr. Martin had been a resident of Albany-Decatur for many years and was widely known throughout North Alabama. He became ill suddenly yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock and calling for assistance, died before medical aid could be administered.

Error in Shipping Bodies Under Probe

OPERATORS REFUSE TO TREAT FURTHER; AWAIT ACTION OF THE GOVERNMENT

Few Present at Conference
Today Remained Only
Short Time.
MINERS DISCUSSED
THEIR OWN AFFAIRS
Conference Makes No Progress
Towards Adjustment Wage Differences.

(International News Service.) NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—In a telegram to Fuel Adm. Garfield today, former secretary of the treasurer W. G. McAdoo declared that increased wages should be granted the coal miners. Mr. McAdoo expressed "grave doubt" as to the justification of the operators in raising the price of coal. He said he had heard reports from Washington that the miners were willing to accept the wage increase offered by Secretary Wilson but that the operators were holding back until they could learn how much of the increased wage cost could be placed on the public through an advance in the price of coal. Mr. McAdoo urged that the operators be not permitted to increase the price of coal.

(International News Service.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The coal operators today awaited government action to settle the wage dispute between the miners and the operators. The wage scale committee met, but only a few of the operators were present and they withdrew, declaring that there was "nothing to talk about" and that it was best to wait for the government to act.

The miners remained in session, discussing affairs of their own concern. The operators expected action from the conference between Attorney General Palmer, Dr. Garfield and Director General Hines this afternoon. Attorney General Palmer, Judge C. B. Ames, Fuel Administrator Garfield and Director General Hines met at luncheon this afternoon to discuss the government's plans for bringing the coal controversy to an end. They were to continue the conference during the afternoon and it was understood they would submit a proposition to the cabinet tomorrow.

The meeting was called by James H. Allison, of the Ft. Worth Record, president of the Southern Newspaper Publisher's association, for discussion

Statement Issued By Local Typos

We, members of Albany-Decatur Typographical Union No. 803, desire to call attention to the fact that badges carrying the words "100 per cent Albany" were distributed in Albany Saturday night by those who are opposing consolidation, which did not carry the union label. This action we hold to be unfair to organized labor, as the union label stands for better wages, better working conditions and co-operation and fraternity on the part of the printers. When the attention of those distributing the badges was called to the fact that the label had not been used, the excuse was circulated that a union shop in Albany had printed the badges and that it had refused to use the label. We investigated this report, and state emphatically that it is untrue. We further state, for the information of the public, that any union shop refusing the union label would automatically lose the right to use this symbol of fairness. We wish to stress the fact that there is a union shop in Albany, one in Decatur, and many scattered throughout North Alabama and in the larger cities, and furthermore that if the rush of work made it impossible for any of these shops to print the badges in the time required, that there was no emergency or emergency that made it necessary for them to be printed at all.

of the greatest print paper shortage ever known.

Among the various problems which the publishers are discussing are those of conservation of advertising space, raising of advertising rates, conservation of reading matter other than straight news and the raising of circulation rates. All of these problems figured in a general discussion at the morning session, but no decision was reached up to the time of the noon adjournment.

Polls Open at 8 Tuesday Morning

The polls will open in Albany and Decatur at 8 a. m. and will close at 5 o'clock in Decatur and at 6 o'clock in Albany. Decatur will vote at the courthouse and at the city hall, while Albany will vote in each of the four wards.

The books of registrar A. G. Wilhite were opened at the courthouse this morning for registration of new voters in Decatur. Many are registering. More than 300 new voters were registered in the two days the books were open in Albany. A large percentage of the new registrants, however, cannot vote in the election Tuesday on account of their poll tax not having been paid.

MEXICO SLOW TO RELEASE JENKINS

MATTER BEING INVESTIGATED
BY JUDICIARY IS CLAIMED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Mexican government believes it will be able to make a satisfactory reply to the sharp note of the United States demanding the immediate release of Wm. O. Jenkins, American consular agent held under arrest for conspiracy against the Carranza government. This statement was made at the Mexican embassy here today.

The matter is in the hands of the Mexican judiciary, it was stated at the embassy, and the investigation is proceeding along "calm, judicial lines." The embassy denied reports that a dispatch bearing on the Jenkins case had been received here.

Ambassador Bonillas refused to comment on the situation today, but indicated that he was confident that the situation would be satisfactorily settled. Secretary of State Lansing announced that he had been advised that the Mexican cabinet met on Friday and discussed the Jenkins affair and called upon the governor of Puebla to render a report.

The state department announced today that no reply to the note sent by this country had been received, but that it had been advised that the Mexican cabinet had the note under consideration.

(International News Service.) BOGALUSA, La., Nov. 24.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer has been asked to investigate the clash late Saturday in which Lum E. Williams, president of the allied trades council and editor of a local labor paper, and two other union labor members were killed and two others seriously wounded.

William L. Donnelo, general organizer for the carpenters union, has made affidavit charging twelve members of the Self Preservation and Loyalty League, with wearing illegally the uniform of the United States army. The great Southern Lumber Company's saw mill, which has been operated by non-union labor since the trouble with the union, remains closed down awaiting repairs to its giant engines. The plant is being guarded day and night.

Sol Dakus, negro, wanted by the police as a dangerous character, around whom the killings of Saturday are said to have centered, is still at large. James Williams, brother of the slain labor leader, is today under arrest charged with shooting with intent to kill.

The line from Huntsville to the river is practically completed and efforts now are directed toward completion of the temporary line across the river. It is expected the permanent line will be finished early in next year and the current brought here from the Coosa river water plant. The temporary line will connect the Huntsville and local plants, allowing each to serve the other in case of a breakdown or unusual "load."

ROADS BOND ISSUE*A YOUNG MAN'S APPEAL FOR GREATER OPPORTUNITY

In today's Daily there appears an appeal signed by a large number of the young men of Albany, including many ex-service men, in favor of consolidation. It is an appeal for opportunity, an appeal for progress, an appeal for that chance that every man who is only getting launched on the threshold of business life has the right to voice. The signers of this petition are asking the voters, when they go to the ballot box tomorrow, to consider especially the interests of those who look not at yesterday but at tomorrow. They are asked to vote for the soldier boys who were disfranchised for a period by their absence from home during the dark days of strife, and who because they served their country well are not permitted to now express their will as every American citizen should have the right. Every elector should weigh this appeal carefully and earnestly.
for no loyal citizen of this republic
can deny that the former service men stood the supreme test of patriotism,
and that their interests are worthy of consideration and protection.

Voice of the People

Albany-Decatur Daily:

I have been connected with organized labor for eighteen years, first in Birmingham, where I learned my trade as sheet metal worker and got my education in unionism. I would not advise any one to do a thing which I had the least idea was wrong. As is well known I have felt the consolidation of these towns is necessary to the wage earners if we are to get the largest return for our labor, and have plenty of work for ourselves and children in the future. As is a well known fact the interests of labor can best be served by organization, education and fraternity. Organization is necessary for the sake of education,
education is necessary to organization; and fraternity is the cause and effect of unity. In union there is strength, and this does not only apply to labor organizations but to union of any kind such as the union of these two towns. As we cannot hope to be successful working individually, but must unite, so towns cannot hope to successfully work alone, and against each other.

As is easy to see, the larger an industrial centre, the larger the majority of working people over the employers class, and so more power to
us. Can it be that L. & N. attorneys and other supporters of the capitalist class are opposing the movement which will mean a big industrial center here? I happen to know, that while the L. & N. has not put any new equipment in the local shops which mean better sanitary conditions, that this same road has put such conveniences in the Boyles shops, which are at Birmingham. In a big industrial center labor has more say so, and there is never any danger of unionism being destroyed. Will we not feel safer for the success of unionism
here, if we are in a larger majority, which will be the case as the new town grows larger? This will be true, especially if we all put our shoulder to the wheel and assure the larger town. As I said, I would not advise any one against his will and would certainly not use my position wrongfully. I felt like saying this much, as the election for the two towns is on, and with this I close.
Yours for whatever is best for labor,
H. K. LAATSCH.

EDITOR DAILY:

I want a little space to say something about the "100 per cent Albany" badges. I found that in any case they were printed not to the best advantage of Albany. They were either printed outside of the two towns, which would be unpatriotic, or they were printed in a shop that is unfair to union labor.

In closing, I do not see how good labor people can follow such leaders
as those who are against consolidation, after what has been told on them and proven to be true. I work here and I have property here, and I know what it is to my interest and to every working man's interests to go in for business relations and more places to work, rather than be caught with this "100% Albany propaganda."
Such Albany city loyalty seems strange to me, when we working people have no property on Second Ave., and only one place to work as long as new industries keep failing to locate here.

C. D. JONES.

(L. & N. SHOP)

ALBANY-DECATUR DAILY:

Having lived adjoining Decatur Alabama for 47 years, during which time I did "my bit" for Decatur before New Decatur came into existence, and since the double town began I have done "my bit" for both,
and am therefore greatly interested in the question of a "greater city."
In all these years I have never lost faith in the future greatness of Decatur—
when it should be one city—(although its growth has been much slower than I anticipated.) Not only have I had great faith in Decatur becoming a great city, and a great inland port, but long ago I was convinced that the Almighty himself pointed out this particular spot to mankind as a superior location for a great inland city, with a prosperous and a happy people, as here nature has placed every thing to the hands of man, the centre of a rich fertile valley with every kind of farm product, with the great cotton crops from every section seeking a market here in Decatur, an inland port with an outlet to the sea, connecting by rail, river and sea with every market in the world, DECATUR, ALA.—on the bosom of the Tennessee river, upon an elevation above overflow, a name that has become known all over the civilized world, a name that is historical in the U. S., a Decatur that will reach its 100 birthday in the year 1920. An old city that has gradually grown to the century mark, has passed through all the stages of its earlier growth, can now send out its message of invitation to the whole world, saying—Come to Decatur the great inland market for cotton and every agricultural product; where mineral wealth is in abundant evidence; where the southern extension of the great Appalachian oil field crosses the valley.

Do not for one moment think this is all moonshine and mist as I do not paint sky pictures, ample proof is at hand that will verify all I have said regarding our great wealth of undeveloped resources, and to which outside capital would come if it was not for the antagonism created by the division of the greater city into two small towns, and if the citizens of your two small towns will rub out that imaginary line and make it the great city of Decatur, then they would live in peace and would have time to get to work in earnest and develop our great hidden wealth,
which would build a great city
and a great central market on the river, and such prosperity would give those citizens of Decatur-Albany a chance to recuperate in dollars many times more than their imaginary losses by consolidation.

I also notice that some of your citizens are in favor of consolidation under a fair bill. Strange, when all the wise men of the two towns met together for the express purpose of drafting a bill that would be fair for both towns. Then was the time to supply a better bill by any one who could so do. It is a sound principle in law that no objection to the bill should be sustained unless that ob-jector can supply a better bill. Having had his day in court and having failed to draft a better bill it was thereby conceded that the "Lynne Bill" is fair. For myself, can find no words in the English language, however, they may be placed, that could make the bill more fair to both towns
than this bill in question—the Lynne Bill.—The men who have kept the Greater City in view as their guiding star are traveling on the road to that height of dignity of mind and elevation of character whose lustre sheds its sparkling rays of light over the broad lands of humanity, and is a true diamond, in contrast to the false and selfish interests, or the cunning ways of politicians to defeat the interests of the greater number of people.

George M. Webb, who has had to severe cold, said when asked about the argument that has been put foran idea is unreasonable; that would be a case of the tail wagging the dog."

Albany's large voting population will always give this side the power to decide all issues that may come up."

Morgan-Limestone Bridge

There is not a man who will stop to reason with himself who can doubt that the Morgan-Limestone bridge is an assured fact. Do you ever stop to consider what this means in property values?

Did you ever know of anyone making the maximum profit by waiting until a project was completed?

Would it not be a wise thing to do to purchase a small tract of land near the site of this magnificent bridge?

Opportunity and action go hand in hand. Friday, November 28th will long be remembered as the turning point in the fortunes of those who have visions and initiative.

There is no investment on earth as good as the earth and no part of the earth is richer or has greater possibilities for large returns than an investment in one or more of the small farms of the H. H. Hitt and F. W.
Webster subdivision to be sold for the high dollar Friday, Nov. 28th, 1919,
at 10:30 a. m. by Rice's Auction Land company.

Will you be one of those whose vision is clear and who, when he sees an opportunity, has initiative to act upon it? Or will you be one of those whose vision is clouded by the pessimist and knocker who has never made a success himself and doesn't want anyone else to succeed? Whet up your appetite, throw away your smoked glasses and go to this free barbecue and land sale and then be your own judge.—Advertisement. 24-3t

Which was in full sympathy with the speaker. What the outlying country thought about the need of the cities consolidating was declared of great importance by the speaker. He said that the city or the person who said they did not care what others thought, either perjured themselves or were lacking in self respect. Consolidation will save money for all. "It will save you money to consolidate," said the speaker and he went on to say that one set of city officials, policemen, school directors and the like would be less expensive and more efficient than the present duplicate plan.

"Haven't you got any confidence in anybody," asked the speaker, and went on to beg his hearers to be more trustful and more optimistic as to the personnel of the two city councils, and declared that it was unworthy of consideration for the opposition to be talking about then deadlocking in the temporary council. The Judge seemed to lean to the construction of the consolidation bill, which made the 2-3 rule apply only to the first or organization meeting, saying that section 10 or 11 seemed to provide that the temporary council once organized must then be governed by the state code for all municipalities, which requires only a majority vote.

The depot matter discussed. The speaker stated the fallacy of the argument that the Albany depot would be closed in the event of consolidation and said that it would be the will of the people that would govern in this matter as expressed through the State Railroad Commission, and that the Railroad could not close the depot at its own will. The speaker stated emphatically that neither city need expect any better depots, ever, as long as they remained two towns instead of one. It was also shown that with Huntsville and Florence both with smaller populations than the united city would have now had secured $150,000.00 Federal building, and that the united city could easily get a federal building near twice as expensive as those of Florence and Huntsville if they tried for it. Amid great cheers the Judge declared that if the Federal building in Decatur was no longer than it was said to be "the further it is removed from me the better."

Decatur cannot hope to rule. According to the speaker, the voters of Albany outnumber those of Decatur about three to one, and the idea of such a small minority ruling was shown to be very absurd. When some one asked the Judge, if the Consolidation bill did not make it so Decatur could rule, he replied emphatically "no" and showed the utter sophistry of such an argument.

Athens News

Dr. McFarland, of the Limestone Drug Co., has had the misfortune to be bitten on the hand by his pet bird dog. Dr. McFarland left Friday noon for Montgomery to be treated. His friends hope he will soon be well and out of danger.

Mrs. Sue Malone was buried Friday morning from her late home. She is the widow of the late John Malone, also a sister-in-law of Mrs. Henry Martin of Athens. She leaves several children all grown, and a large circle of friends.

A phone message to the Misses Grosse, of Athens, told them the sad news of their mother's death in Pulaski. She has been ill for many months from paralysis. She was buried in Pulaski Friday. Her sons from here attended her funeral.

Mrs. Annie R. Jones, of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting her nephew, R. H. Richardson and niece, Mrs. T. M. Hobbs and other relatives. She is a sister of the late Dr. W. D. Richardson and has some warm friends among the older people of our little city.

The Humbug circus promises to be a rare entertainment in its novelty, it is given for the two chapters, D. A. R.'s and U. D. C.'s.

In This Respect Hudson Has No Rival

The Super-Six Motor is Patented and Exclusive. It Added 72% to Power

Don't forget that no other car in the world has a motor like the Hudson Super-Six.

When you see a Hudson doing the things that only the highest powered cars can do, remember that in size, the Super-Six motor is not large and that it obtains its great power because of the patented principle which minimizes vibration.

Adds to the Life of the Car, too

Vibration is the greatest destructive force about a motor car.

Vibration does far more damage than any shock received in useful service. You can see its destructive effects when a motor is raced.

Vibration absorbs power. By minimizing it, greater power is available for the operation of the car. And there is less strain and damage done through self destruction.

The records made by the Super-Six were possible only because of its patented motor. It enabled the Hudson to maintain close to its maximum speed for hours, even days as in one test, without hammering itself to pieces.

Now Note How Hudson Is Even Greater

Hudson records were made more than three years ago. Then 60,000 Super-Sixes were distributed to owners. Every one became a help in making the present model a finer, better Hudson, of which 100 are delivered daily. The qualities of every detail were brought up to match the motor, that had reached a new high level of efficiency.

All men seem to know this. For four years Hudson has been the largest selling fine car. Practically every buyer has had to wait for delivery. Even now we are booking orders for advance delivery. That men will wait to get the car of their choice is proof of Hudson quality. What greater testimonial can there be?

THE BEAUTIFUL ELOQUENCE OF TRUTH

In Open Court, 55 People Swear as to Their Experience With the Great Remedy, Sul-Ferro-Sol. Many Cures of Cases of Rheumatism, Pellagra, Eczema, Tetters, Etc., Proven.

Sworn to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, 55 witnesses recently testified in the United States Court, Western District of South Carolina, that they were benefited or cured of various blood troubles through the use of Sul-Ferro-Sol. Sul-Ferro-Sol and Sul-Ferro-Sol only—just think this over.
Of this assembly, some had suffered six months, while others had suffered for twenty years. But they all swore that Sul-Ferro-Sol had done exactly as claimed.
And here is our point of appeal: Use a blood purifier of proven efficiency.
Sul-Ferro-Sol comes from a natural deposit of Iron, Sulphur and Potash recently found in Mississippi. It's nothing more than a wonderful mineral water.
Most highly recommended for rheumatism, eczema, tetters, facial blemishes, pellagra, and all other diseases characterized by impure blood.

Big Free Barbecue

We all remember the thrills and joy the announcement of a barbecue gave us away back yonder in the good old days of our youth when the axe and the plow were laid aside and youth and age mingled together for a day, free from all the cares and worries of labor and business.

The occasion might have been that of a political rally, a church gathering or a log rolling. We went and enjoyed ourselves just the same. Such a day will be Nov. 28th on the H. H. Hitt and F. W. Webster farms just across the river from Decatur and Albany when Rice's Auction Land Co. will serve absolutely free a fine barbecue, music and other entertainment.

The occasion will be the selling of the H. H. Hitt and F. W. Webster farms subdivided into small tracts where anyone can procure a small farm at his own price, and on such reasonable terms that they can pay for it like rent.

Another feature of this sale is the location. When the Morgan-Limestone bridge is built money can hardly buy this land.

Everyone attending this sale will be passed over the ferries free and everyone will have a chance to draw a $25.00 cash prize.

No one should miss this barbecue and sale.—Advertisement. 24-3t

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. This is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calotabs, and which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bedtime, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—Advertisement.

WILL THE INFLUENZA RETURN?

Public Health Authorities Predict its Recurrence

Guard Against it by Building Up the Blood.

Pepto-Mangan Creates Rich Red Blood and Increases Strength.

Surgeon General Blue, of the United States Public Health Service, in a recent statement from Washington, warns the public that the much-breathed influenza epidemic will probably return this fall and winter. All medical authorities agree that the weak, bloodless, run-down individual is more likely to contract this (as well as any other infectious disease) than a strong, robust, red-blooded man or woman. In view of these facts, it is wise to use every effort to build up the blood and thus increase the bodily resistance to the invasion of the germs of the disease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak, and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.—Advertisement.

FOR INDIGESTION

CAN'T REMEMBER
WHEN I'VE FELT
QUITE SO WELL

Am Full of Energy and Vitality; Have Fine Appetite; Sleep Sound; Constipation Overcome; Stomach Right Again, Since Taking Drego.

When a person has been half sick, feeling dull, tired and "no account," then gets a medicine that puts new energy and vim into his every-day life, he feels like letting others know about it. That's how this man feels. He is Mr. D. T. Carter of 405 Pine Street, Anniston, Ala.

"For years I've suffered awful pains in my back from deranged kidneys. Sometimes I'd have to get up five or six times during the night. I also had headaches and was badly constipated, and my food seemed to ferment in my stomach and form sour gas, which caused much uneasiness and distress. I was very dizzy at times and had about lost my appetite. I had tried many different medicines, but none helped me, and I'd given up all hope of ever getting well again. I heard so much about Drego I bought a bottle, and right from the start it did me good. It soothed my stomach and stopped the gas; put a stop to the constipation and headaches, also the dizziness, and my appetite got better every day. The pains in my back and kidneys have been entirely relieved, and now I go to bed and sleep all night long, and never have to get up during the night as I formerly did."

Drego is made of the juices and extracts of many herbal plants, which act on the kidneys, liver, bladder, stomach and blood, and corrects many troubles, such as gas on the stomach, constipation, weakness, poor appetite, nervousness, headaches, biliousness, catarrh, rheumatism, and such blood disorders as eczema, pimples, blotches, boils and eruptions. The first bottle usually shows splendid results, and a full treatment brings permanent results.

Drego is sold by all druggists and is highly recommended in this city by

HEAVY CULLMAN COUNTY HIGH IS HELD TO TWO TOUCHDOWNS

Handicapped in weight ten pounds to the man, fighting with a spirit of determination that was a brave, as commendable, as heart breaking as it was hopeless, the Albany high school held the heavy Cullman county school to two touchdowns and a goal Saturday afternoon, losing 12 to 1.

Even considering the fearful handicap they fought against, still the story might have been different had not Old Man Hard Luck persistently embraced the padded shoulders of the purple jerseyed crew. Minus one star back in the first half and another in the second and a crack end two thirds of the time, the Albany machine was able to get going in all cylinders for only a very short time.

Alexander one of the team's best ground games, was unavoidably detained and could not enter the game until the beginning of the second half; Carr, whose playing, as usual, had been a feature, was knocked out in the second half; Shelton, a regular end whose work has been of the highest order, suffered a strained leg and was out nearly three quarters.

But had the game been a victory for Albany, even then it would have been nearly bought, for Carr, the discriminative half who has been a terror for all opposition this year, has played his last game this season for the Purple. Apparently the Cullman buskies wanted to get Carr, and they did. When two men hit him near the sideline in the third quarter, Carr's collar bone was broken. Despite the injury, he went back into the line-up and hit the line again, but the pain was too much and when time called, the game little back was taken from the field. With him went the Purple hopes.

With Carr gone, Alexander, Royer and Putman charged the opposing line desperately, but lost the ball on downs on Cullman's one yard line.

The Cullman team is by far the heaviest aggregation the locals have been up against this season. The squad boasts one lineman weighing 200 pounds and several in the 175 class.

Probably staggered by such a display of weight, the locals aeroplaned in the first couple of minutes of play, and before they had recovered their equilibrium, Cullman had pushed over one touchdown and failed to kick goal.

Huller opened hostilities by kicking to Biggers, who returned the ball to the middle of the field. Baird made 15 yards around right end. Buchart, Cullman's big fullback, then carried it over, going through the line of scrimmage. Kierbow failed at goal.

Despite the early lead, the Albany

team showed its eagerness and when Cullman kicked to Kierbow, the latter began a march down the field toward the Cullman goal, only to lose the ball on a fumble, after Carr had made a first down with a beautiful 12 yard run around right end.

With the ball in Cullman's possession, Albany's linemen and back field began the most terrific charging ever seen here. Turpey tackled Baird for a 3-yard loss on the first play; Carr tackled Baird for a one yard loss on the third. It was exhibitions of defensive work such as is seldom seen. Kierbow punted to Carr, who returned 5 yards. Albany tried a forward pass, which failed. Royer made 5 yards left end. Carr made 8 around right end and first down. After another pass failed and Royer made two through the line the quarter ended. Albany 0, Cullman 6.

Second Quarter
Carr made 8 yards in two bucks and the ball went over. On end run, the Cullman back was tackled by Carr and Shelton. Time out for Shelton, whose leg was injured. Lamont substituted for Shelton.

Cullman made first down through the line and Ling intercepted a forward pass. Albany's ball on her own 25 yard line. Carr and Royer made 9 yards on three bucks and the ball went over. Carr tackled the runner twice behind the line of scrimmage for 4 yard loss. On an attempted line buck, Sewell broke it up by downing the runner behind the line of scrimmage.

Tapey intercepted an attempted pass on Albany's 30 yard line. Albany 0, Cullman 6.

Third Quarter
By an agreement the third and fourth quarters were played without the rest period in order to allow Cullman to catch a train.

Alexander, who had just arrived on the field, went in for Putman. Kierbow kicked to Alexander, who fumbled, Patrick recovering on Albany's 5-yard line. The first buck failed to budge the ball, but on the second Buckart went over and kicked goal.

Kierbow kicked to Alexander who returned 15 yards. Carr made an attempted right and run and a near fight resulted. Spectators claimed a Cullman player struck Carr. The players were separated by teammates.

Royer's buck netted two yards. A pass failed. Carr punted out of bounds on Albany's 35 yard line. Cullman lost 15 yards through Albany's fierce tackling which threw back after back behind the line.

Cullman punted out on Albany's 20 yard line. Alexander, Royer and Carr, alternating, pushed the ball down the field to Cullman's territory, making first down after first down. Cullman drew a 5 yard penalty for holding. Alexander made a beautiful 20 yard dash around right end. Cullman's 25 yard line. Carr carried the ball to Cullman's 9 yard line around left, being tackled on the sideline.

Alexander hit the line and time was called for Carr, who was injured on the preceding play. Putman went in for Carr. Alexander made two spectacular charges against the heavy Cullman line and netted 7 yards. Royer made another and the ball went over on Cullman's one yard line. Cullman punted. After a series of line plunges, Ling tried a field goal, which failed. The game ended with the ball in Cullman's possession on her own 15 yard line.

The Albany team probably won more real supporters Saturday by its exhibition of gameness than it had at any time during the season. Only on the two occasions that they scored did Cullman's offense make any headway. Time after time a linesman or a back charged through the interference and snaggled a runner before he got started. What the locals lacked in weight, they made up in gameness. The defeat cannot detract from the crown of glory which rests on the heads of each member of the Purple team.

THE INSTRUMENT OF QUALITY

Sonora

CLEAR AS A BELL

Supreme in Tone!

THE Sonora is wonderfully beautiful, a joy to listen to, with a tone that is sweet, true, clear and incomparably lovely. The Sonora is the leader in the phonograph world and has won its supremacy because of its matchless tonal value.

At the Panama-Pacific Exposition "the only jury which heard and tested all of the phonographs exhibited recommended that the Sonora be given a marking for tone quality higher than that given to any other phonograph or talking machine."

Plays all records—The Sonora plays all makes of disc records perfectly without extra attachments.

Long-running motor—The splendid design and construction of the Sonora motor is of great importance and the Sonora is famous for this extra-long-running, silent, powerful motor.

Tone modulator—The tone of the Sonora is regulated at the sound source, the correct place, and only the volume and not the quality of the tone is altered.

Superb design—The Sonora is famous for its "bulge" design lines (made by a patented process) and these curved lines are found only in the finest examples of woodworkers' art.

Automatic stop—The Sonora automatic stop is carefully designed, is effective in operation, and is decidedly convenient.

Motor meter—The Sonora is the only instrument equipped with a motor-meter which tells how many more records can be played before rewinding is necessary. (Models—Invincible and Supreme.)

When you hear the Sonora, its magnificent tone and its valuable features of construction will instantly convince you that it is unequalled.

Superb standard upright and period models are now available.

WHAT I HAVE LEARNED ABOUT THE LYNNE BILL

WHAT I HAVE LEARNED ABOUT THE LYNNE BILL

Considerable diversity of opinion seems to exist as to the proper construction to be given to certain features of the Lynne Consolidation (Absorption) Bill, and in order to satisfy myself, I have undertaken to secure what I suppose I might term independent advice, or advice from an outside attorney from another city and county in this state, as to the proper construction to be given to that part of the bill which provides that ordinances can only be passed by a two-thirds vote of all the members of the council, and about what contingencies will exist if Albany is absorbed by Decatur under the Lynne Bill at the election on next Tuesday, and if the council fails to agree upon a division of the city into wards, and about the veto power of the mayor, and this attorney has advised me to this effect:

1st.—He advises that the provision in section ten—which is as follows: "Provided said consolidated city shall operate under and be governed by the present general laws applicable to cities of six thousand or more inhabitants," will not apply to passage of ordinances since the Lynne bill itself directs the mode of procedure for the passage of ordinances, and the vote necessary to pass an ordinance.

2nd.—That the council of the city, if Albany is absorbed, cannot pass an ordinance at the first meeting of the council for the reason that Section Ten of the bill provides that the consolidated city is not a legal entity until the final adjournment of the first meeting.

3rd.—That there is no provision in the bill limiting the scope of the two-thirds majority rule to the first meeting of the council.

4th.—That the two-thirds rule in section seven does not cease, or is not nullified by the election of a new council in the municipal election to be held in the year 1920, provided the city is divided into wards, and there is an election at that time.

5th.—That the two-thirds rule will apply in the passage of ordinances until changed by amendment of the bill by the Legislature, and therefore, if the bill is not amended, the two-thirds rule will be the law for all time.

6th.—That if the city council does not divide the city into wards, there can be no election for aldermen at the general municipal election to be held in the year 1920, since the bill only provides for the election of two aldermen from each ward in the city, and since no provision is made for the election of aldermen from the city at large.

7th.—That the veto power of the mayor, who, under the terms of the bill, must come from Decatur, is not in any way infringed upon by the bill.

8th.—That the mayor will have the power to veto any ordinance passed by the council and that his veto can only be over-ridden by a two-thirds vote of all the members composing the council. You can see from this that Decatur will hold the whip hand in two ways,—one in the original passage of the ordinances, and one by the veto power of the mayor. For instance, an ordinance might be introduced and passed by a two-thirds vote of the council for the good of that part of the city which is now Albany, but if the mayor vetoes the ordinance, it would have to be returned to the council and would have to get a two-thirds vote again, and the veto power of an executive officer is seldom over-ridden in either municipal, state or national affairs, and it is, of course, extremely doubtful whether or not all of the original two-thirds of the council who voted for the ordinance would vote to over-ride the veto of the mayor, especially when five of them would come from Decatur, and one of whom must at all times vote with the Albany aldermen either to pass an ordinance or to over-ride the veto of the mayor.

The letter of Mr. James A. Nelson, Mayor of Decatur, which was presumably inspired by these favoring consolidation in that city, and which was not written to influence any votes in Decatur against consolidation, but for the purpose of influencing some votes in Albany for consolidation, fails to take into account the veto power of the mayor. Decatur's right or interests cannot be jeopardized in any way, for it is protected by the veto power of its mayor, regardless of whatever construction is placed upon the Lynne bill, and as I see it, these features of the bill present a very grave question for the people of Albany to consider before voting on this issue of the absorption of this city by Decatur.

Benefits of Walks.

Through a daily walk in the open air, the hair may be made to grow, it is said, and this as a result of improved circulation. The skin may be improved, both in color and texture, if it is, in conjunction with this exercise, properly cleaned. The figure may be greatly improved. These blessings, with the calming of troubled nerves already mentioned, ought to make any woman, young or old, an advocate of this form of exercise.
